

THE SENATE PROCEEDINGS

A Bitter Attack on the Civil Service Regulations.

STARTED BY SENATOR ALLEN

Several of His Colleagues Seconded His Remarks—The Only One Who Defended the Law Was Mr. Lodge. Mr. Turpie's Amendment to the Constitution.

The Senate indulged yesterday in an almost one-sided denunciation of the civil service law and its administration. The matter came up in the shape of a resolution offered by Mr. Allen of Nebraska, directing the Committee on Civil Service to inquire into the dismissal of some half dozen employees, microscopists, of the Bureau of Animal Industry, in South Omaha, Neb., and instructing the committee to examine the different branches of the civil service to inquire whether those dismissals were for political reasons.

Mr. Allen made a long explanation of the circumstances, and declared that these employees had been discharged for no other reason than because they had supported Mr. Bryan and the cause of free silver during the late campaign. He characterized as an absolute and unqualified falsehood the excuse put forward by the Civil Service Commissioners that they could not find the means to do so; and asserted that they were as great a detriment to the public service as so many tramps or common beggars.

A proposition to refer the matter to a different committee—that of Civil Service and Retirement—was made and discussed. Mr. Hoar of Massachusetts expressing the hope that the investigation at all should be deferred just now.

Mr. Gallinger, of New Hampshire, a member of the committee mentioned in the resolution, said that it would be impossible for him to give any time to the proposed investigation, as he was chairman of the committee on the Judiciary, to which had been referred more than half of the 1,200 bills introduced at the present session. More than twenty similar grievances had been brought before him in the shape of communications, and life was not long enough for the Senate to undertake their investigation. He looked upon civil service as administered today as a "monstrous humbug from top to bottom and from beginning to end." (Applause in the galleries, which was promptly repressed by the Vice President.)

"That is the Senate's doctrine," said Mr. Hoar, "and the civil service, and if the question comes up in our committee and we undertake to act upon it, there, there will be quite a lively fight."

"I am always ready for a fight," Mr. Gallinger replied, "especially with a man older than myself."

"When Senators and Congressmen ask men to help them in their election they have a right to come to us and ask us to exert ourselves to procure positions for them under the Government. I shall stand on that position. Therefore I do not think that I am a competent judge in this matter. There are scores and hundreds of cases which would have to be investigated if this Omaha case is investigated; and we would be entering on 'a sea of trouble' where, I am afraid, we would not be able to weather the storm."

Mr. Allen—I fully agree with the Senator from New Hampshire that this Civil Service Commission and the civil service itself are two of the most monstrous humbugs in the United States, and I will vote with him to wipe out the whole thing.

The discussion was in this vein until 2 o'clock, Mr. Lodge being the only Senator who stood up for the civil service law.

Mr. Wilson of Washington said that in his State there was going to be a civil service examination for a cook in the United States penitentiary and another for a sewer in the District of Columbia, and he intimated that an opportunity would be given to vote by yeas and nays on repealing the law.

Mr. Stewart of Nevada spoke of the commission as an office brokerage establishment. Mr. Hoar, who had previously admitted that the civil service law which he had joined in reporting had fallen into a state of "conspicuous incompetency," and he related an instance of an Army engineer, having charge of works on Long Island Sound, having been prevented from employing an inspector a thoroughly capable steamboat captain, who knew every rock and sand bar in the harbor, because they had sent to him "a school-master from Rhode Island."

Mr. Lodge, having in his remarks ridiculed some of the statements made by Senators as to the incompetency of the law, and other statements made by the Civil Service Commission, Mr. Gallinger retorted with some sarcastic allusions to Mr. Lodge's estimate. He repeated his declaration that he would vote to blot out the civil service law and would take an instant and thoroughgoing steamboat captain, who knew every rock and sand bar in the harbor, because they had sent to him "a school-master from Rhode Island."

A bill has been offered in the House by Mr. Brooks, purporting to extend the civil service law to the District of Columbia. It provides that within three months after its passage no person shall be employed to enter or be promoted in the service of the municipal government of the District, or in the office of the Recorder of Deeds and Register of Wills, except upon competitive examinations. But the President may provide for exceptions as in his judgment may be necessary and proper.

A bill was introduced by Mr. Moore to restrict the application of the doctrine of constructive negligence, so as to prevent persons guilty of negligence, which is not the proximate cause of an injury to persons or property to recover damages.

STOPPED BY HIGHWAYMEN. Dr. Richardson's Presence of Mind Saved Him from Robbery. The police were yesterday advised to look out for the highway robbers who attempted to hold up Dr. G. A. Richardson, of Hyattsville, on the Queen's Chapel road, last Sunday night.

The physician was driving home about 9 o'clock at night upon his return from visiting several patients near Barn's Horn, when he was held up by two robbers on a lonely portion of the road just beyond the bridge which crosses the northeast branch.

The doctor was driving at a moderate pace when the men jumped out from the roadside and one of them seized the reins near the horse's head and yelled at the driver to halt. Instead of obeying Dr. Richardson, quickly seizing the situation, seized the whip and struck his horse a blow that caused him to leap forward and compel the highwayman to release his hold.

The night was so dark that the doctor was unable to distinguish whether the men were white or black.

FILIBUSTER BERMUDA FREE. Captain Has Been Granted Clearance Papers by the Treasury. The Treasury Department yesterday directed that clearance papers be granted the alleged filibuster Bermuda, now at Fernandina, Fla. The Bermuda's captain took the omibus order required by the department before the permission was given. He was obliged to make affidavit that the vessel would not transfer any part of her cargo to any other vessel before reaching her destination, nor take on board more men than was required to run her. Copies of the affidavit were examined by Secretary Gage before the permission was ordered.

The steamer will clear for some port in the West Indies, not Spanish, with a cargo of munitions of war.

THE DISTRICT IN CONGRESS

Several Bills of Local Importance Introduced Yesterday.

Additional Estimates for District Expenses—Civil Service, and Day Labor on Pub. Works.

Senator Allison presented in the Senate yesterday afternoon a letter from the Secretary of the Treasury recommending an appropriation of $1,000 for repairs on the roof of the Executive Mansion. He also presented another letter from Secretary Gage submitting additional estimates for District expenses, as follows:

Salaries of executive office, 1897. $744.00
Salaries of executive office, 1897. $744.00
Sewers, 1897. 188.84
Reform school for girls, 1897. 600.00
Fire department, 1897. 2,260.00
Public schools, 1897. 3,757.83
Surplus fund and water debt. 71.43

His two letters were referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Senator Jones of Arkansas introduced a bill providing for the restoration of medical freedom to the people of the District of Columbia. This bill is designed to repeal all the present statutes regulating the practice of medicine in the District of Columbia, and purposes to render it open to practitioners of all schools.

Senator Mantle, of Montana, yesterday afternoon presented a very novel bill. It was entitled "A bill to educate foreign nations in knowledge of the availability of the products of the United States." It permits George F. Ormrod, J. Edward Pollock and John H. Prang to form a corporation to be known as an Artisans and Farmers' International and Interstate League. This league is not only to undertake the education of foreign nations in knowledge and availability of the products of the United States, but is also, under certain circumstances, to furnish officers to the Federal Government.

It is provided that the President may at pleasure summon any member of the corporation to act as Assistant Secretary in any of the departments. While so employed, this member of the corporation is to be designated as Assistant Assistant Secretary, and is to receive pay at the same rate as now provided by law for the lowest-salaried Assistant Secretary. The salary is to stop in each case whenever the President dispenses with the services of the additional secretary.

It is the evident purpose of the framers of the bill to have this corporation in position to furnish at all times technical officers on demand of the Government. It is perhaps needless to say that Senator Mantle says he introduces this bill at request.

Senator McMillan introduced a batch of bills of interest to the District. One provides for compulsory education of children in the District. Others are as follows:

Authorizing the employment of day labor in the construction of municipal buildings in the District of Columbia; directing the Secretary of the Interior to quietclaim and release to Francis and Juniah Hall title to the east twenty feet front of square 463 in this city; providing for the elevation of the tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad; a bill to confer the Aqueduct bridge and the single street car track thereon; to further regulate the sale of milk in the District; for the prevention of smoke, and another relating to wills and other written instruments.

A bill has been offered in the House by Mr. Brooks, purporting to extend the civil service law to the District of Columbia. It provides that within three months after its passage no person shall be employed to enter or be promoted in the service of the municipal government of the District, or in the office of the Recorder of Deeds and Register of Wills, except upon competitive examinations. But the President may provide for exceptions as in his judgment may be necessary and proper.

A bill was introduced by Mr. Moore to restrict the application of the doctrine of constructive negligence, so as to prevent persons guilty of negligence, which is not the proximate cause of an injury to persons or property to recover damages.

STOPPED BY HIGHWAYMEN. Dr. Richardson's Presence of Mind Saved Him from Robbery. The police were yesterday advised to look out for the highway robbers who attempted to hold up Dr. G. A. Richardson, of Hyattsville, on the Queen's Chapel road, last Sunday night.

The physician was driving home about 9 o'clock at night upon his return from visiting several patients near Barn's Horn, when he was held up by two robbers on a lonely portion of the road just beyond the bridge which crosses the northeast branch.

The doctor was driving at a moderate pace when the men jumped out from the roadside and one of them seized the reins near the horse's head and yelled at the driver to halt. Instead of obeying Dr. Richardson, quickly seizing the situation, seized the whip and struck his horse a blow that caused him to leap forward and compel the highwayman to release his hold.

The night was so dark that the doctor was unable to distinguish whether the men were white or black.

FILIBUSTER BERMUDA FREE. Captain Has Been Granted Clearance Papers by the Treasury. The Treasury Department yesterday directed that clearance papers be granted the alleged filibuster Bermuda, now at Fernandina, Fla. The Bermuda's captain took the omibus order required by the department before the permission was given. He was obliged to make affidavit that the vessel would not transfer any part of her cargo to any other vessel before reaching her destination, nor take on board more men than was required to run her. Copies of the affidavit were examined by Secretary Gage before the permission was ordered.

The steamer will clear for some port in the West Indies, not Spanish, with a cargo of munitions of war.

A MEETING OF JIM AND BOB

They Talked Over Their Plans Quietly in a San Francisco Bar.

Fitz Declines a Challenge—The Two Ordered Non-Intoxicants and Exchanged Compliments.

San Francisco, Cal., March 23.—James J. Corbett and Robert Fitzsimmons will never meet in the prize ring for another championship battle. The question was practically decided this morning when the two pugilists met in the barroom of the Baldwin Hotel and talked over their plans quietly and dispassionately. There were no threatening gestures and no loud talk. Corbett, who arrived at the morning for a meeting and when Bob arrived from Sacramento Jim asked him if he would take a drink.

"I don't mind," said Bob. They walked to the barroom and both ordered non-intoxicants. They were immediately surrounded by a curious crowd. "How do you feel?" asked Corbett.

"I feel all right," answered Bob. "My arms are a little sore and stiff, and my thumb is very sore. The doctor says it is broken."

"I figured my left thumb early in the game," said Corbett, "when I caught you on the forehead."

"Mine was hurt in the second round," said Bob, "when I swung on your head and landed too far around."

"I tell you, Bob, people told me you were slow and easy. I wish those men told me what you had in front of you March 17. You won and beat me fairly and squarely."

"Well," replied Fitzsimmons, "I can assure you that you are the cleverest man I ever met in my life."

"I want to fight you again," said Corbett.

"You must talk to my manager," answered Fitz.

Julian, overhearing the remark, replied that Bob had done enough fighting.

"He has fought more than any man living during a space of several years," said Julian, "and he will not fight again if I can rule. His wife wants him to retire and he will do so."

"Then I am to understand that there is not another chance for me?" said Corbett.

"I don't think so," replied Julian.

"Well, all right," remarked Corbett, in a very down-hearted way; "but I should like to have one more try. You fought Maher twice; why not give me another chance?"

"Because I have retired," said Fitzsimmons, "and I am going to settle down."

The conversation then turned to the past fight. Corbett showed his left hand, which was considerably swollen, and Fitzsimmons' right thumb is still bandaged.

The crowd had now become so thick that Corbett asked Bob and Julian to step to one side to talk privately concerning a second fight, and they moved to the side and spoke in whispers. Their conversation was very short and evidently disappointing to Corbett, judging from his looks.

After the meeting Corbett sat down quietly at a table in the cafe and discussed his plans with the manager and a representative of the United Associated Presses.

"I don't think Fitzsimmons and I will ever get together again," said Jim. "He is evidently sincere in his determination to retire. As I said before, I was in shape to put up with the best fighter of my life the day I went against Fitz in Carson, although he defeated me fair and square."

"You must admit, though, and he admits himself, that I gave him the worst punching he ever got in his life. I hurt my hands, but aside from that I didn't carry a mark. I was the best fighter of my life the day I went against Fitz in Carson, although he defeated me fair and square."

"You must admit, though, and he admits himself, that I gave him the worst punching he ever got in his life. I hurt my hands, but aside from that I didn't carry a mark. I was the best fighter of my life the day I went against Fitz in Carson, although he defeated me fair and square."

"You must admit, though, and he admits himself, that I gave him the worst punching he ever got in his life. I hurt my hands, but aside from that I didn't carry a mark. I was the best fighter of my life the day I went against Fitz in Carson, although he defeated me fair and square."

"You must admit, though, and he admits himself, that I gave him the worst punching he ever got in his life. I hurt my hands, but aside from that I didn't carry a mark. I was the best fighter of my life the day I went against Fitz in Carson, although he defeated me fair and square."

"You must admit, though, and he admits himself, that I gave him the worst punching he ever got in his life. I hurt my hands, but aside from that I didn't carry a mark. I was the best fighter of my life the day I went against Fitz in Carson, although he defeated me fair and square."

"You must admit, though, and he admits himself, that I gave him the worst punching he ever got in his life. I hurt my hands, but aside from that I didn't carry a mark. I was the best fighter of my life the day I went against Fitz in Carson, although he defeated me fair and square."

"You must admit, though, and he admits himself, that I gave him the worst punching he ever got in his life. I hurt my hands, but aside from that I didn't carry a mark. I was the best fighter of my life the day I went against Fitz in Carson, although he defeated me fair and square."

"You must admit, though, and he admits himself, that I gave him the worst punching he ever got in his life. I hurt my hands, but aside from that I didn't carry a mark. I was the best fighter of my life the day I went against Fitz in Carson, although he defeated me fair and square."

"You must admit, though, and he admits himself, that I gave him the worst punching he ever got in his life. I hurt my hands, but aside from that I didn't carry a mark. I was the best fighter of my life the day I went against Fitz in Carson, although he defeated me fair and square."

$12.50 IS THE PRICE FOR AN HONEST SUIT OR OVERCOAT MADE TO ORDER PURE WOOL AND FAST COLOR GUARANTEED

CALL FOR SAMPLES. Open Evenings Until 9 o'clock. Bicycle Suit and Cap, $10.

SMITH & TAYLOR
941 Pa. Ave., N. W.

WHEELMEN READY FOR WAR

A Boycott Against the Cycle Board of Trade Suggested.

The Latter Does Not Appear to Care About Treating with the Wheelmen.

The committee of wheelmen representing the several cycle clubs of the city, recently appointed to meet the local cycle board of trade, held a meeting on Monday evening at the Quaker Wheelmen Club house. Dr. J. Bart Hills, president, with the following committee members present: Messrs. J. B. Hills, C. B. C. W. H. Wright, E. A. C. F. A. Steele, Chain and Sprocket Club, K. M. Goode, Altamont Wheelmen, R. B. Chalky, Quaker Wheelmen, and A. Girouard, unattached.

It was decided that the committee had performed its duties as thoroughly as possible in its effort to meet the board of trade, with which, however, it had failed to have a conference, and as the board evidently does not wish to confer, it was decided that the committee could do no more at present.

Another general meeting of the District Wheelmen was held on Monday evening, April 5, at the Quaker Wheelmen Club house, No. 1027 Twelfth street, to receive the report of the committee named, and decide what form of action can be taken in the matter. This notice will give each club a chance to hold a meeting, and discuss the report of the committee, and the general meeting. Unattached wheelmen are also invited to attend the general meeting and give voice to their sentiments in the matter.

There seems to be a willingness on the part of all riders to assist in the fight against the Cycle Board of Trade, and a great many have declared that they will not trade with any dealer who is a member of the committee. One of the members of the committee suggested that a circular, containing names of all dealers north of the board of trade, together with the names of the dealers who have been placed on the list, be printed and sent to all clubs of the city, and conspicuously posted where they will be readily seen by the wheeling public.

NO RACE DATES CANCELLED.

Chairman Mort Denies Rumors Growing from Secession Talk.

Baltimore, Md., March 23.—Albert Mort, chairman of the National Racing Board, L. A. W., states that there is absolutely no foundation for the report that Western dates for the national circuit races will be cancelled, owing to the secession talk. All claims for dates must, however, be in Mr. Mort's hands by April 15.

A matter which is attracting considerable attention is the international race meeting, which will be held in Scotland, July 29 to August 1. In previous years some American wheelmen have been in Europe at the time of this event, and the great A. A. Zimmerman won it in 1893 in England. At present there are no American racers on the other side who are likely to enter, but there is a possibility some fast Americans may go there at the time of the races.

AFTER THE VARSITY RACES.

New London Board of Trade Bids for Them.

New London, Conn., March 23.—The board of trade of this city is making a strong effort to secure the intercollegiate boat race for this city. A circular letter has just been sent to Yale, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Cornell, and Columbia, in an effort to get the Yale-Harvard-Cornell and Cornell-Yale-Harvard-Vassar races and the accompanying freshman contests.

This letter offers to provide transportation for men and boats; boathouses; quarters for the crews; and to give to the crews 50 cents for each ticket sold for the observation train. This would mean the paying of all expenses except those for the real training, and about $1,700 in cash for each of the crews.

Entries at New Orleans.

New Orleans, March 23.—Entries for tomorrow:

First race—Seven-eighths of a mile. Belle of Killarney, 92; Florence Colville, Apocrophe, 87 each; Princess Pounce, 102; Senator Penrose, 104; Rewarder, Gomez, 107 each; Lizzie, Mack, Nannie Lord, 109 each.

Second race—One-half mile. Lillian Russell, Floss, 100 each; Lady Healy, Kaiserin, 102 each; Leicester, Col. Rowles, 105 each; Shire, 110.

Third race—Handicap; waterweight; One and one-eighth miles. Mrs. Bradshaw, 125; Incommodore, 126; Partner, 127; Carroll, Doade, 130 each; Granada, Plutus, 134 each; Will Elliott, 135; Brakeman, 139; Boose, 140.

Fourth race—One mile. Handicap. Pete Kitchen, 90; Prince of India, 94; Ray H. 95; Nannie L. Sider, 96; Burns, 98; Paul Pry, 101; Mermald, Ben Waddell, 102 each; Marquette, 103; Sharon, 107; Irish Lady, 109; Jake Zimmerman, 110.

Fifth race—One mile. Handicap. Milt Beckett, 92; Nannie, 93; The Barret, Mouthed, Squire Gilliam, 102 each; Cadillac, Jim Conway, 104 each; Nobilis, Lord Fairfax, 107 each.

Sixth race—Seven-eighths of a mile. Selling. Victories, 100; Tim Irven, Mike Kelly, 102 each; Gluck, 103; Spirituality, Zaldar, Pert, Tom Quirk, 105 each.

Suit for Divorce Begun.

Luke Best began suit for divorce against Mary M. Best, yesterday, charging her with desertion. He also asks for the custody of their only child.

FIFTEEN PLAYERS AT WORK

The Arrival of German and Norton Make This Number.

SECOND DAY'S PRACTICE

No Effort as Yet Toward Team Plays—German Is Overweight, but Will Train Down in a Few Days—Norton Has Recovered His Health and Strength.

The Senators took their second whirl at the outdoor team practice yesterday, and though it was slightly cooler than the initial day, because of the wind, and that the sun was hidden by threatening clouds, they went at their task, morning and afternoon, with a willingness that betokened little soreness, and which evidenced that witch-hazel and sound sleep had taken out the creases in the joints and muscles left by Monday's exercise.

The arrival of Lester German and "Er" Norton gave Manager Schmeiz a total of fifteen players, and when the entire aggregation got to work it looked like a couple of rival teams warming up for a battle.

German reached the city last night from his country seat in Maryland. Lester has a bit more embonpoint than is necessary to his health and happiness as a twifter, but, as he is a hard worker, he expects to pull off every ounce of superfluous avoirdupois within a week's time. He attributes his embonpoint to the scale beam to "good, old-fashioned country living." In his pleasant rural Maryland home, his only diversion during the winter having been an occasional hunting trip. The ex-New Yorker is quite an expert at the traps as well as in the field, and as Dave Crockett said, "when his gun cracks something gently drops."

On the principle that sunshine follows shadow, German thinks he will have a good year in baseball. Last season was bad for him, and if the argument of the sun and shadow business holds good—also his arm—he can be expected to again become a winning pitcher. Another thing, he lost more games by hard luck than any other pitcher in the League. Certainly the hoodoo will not continue to pursue him.

Norton, who became very popular with local fans last season, was heartily greeted by his old associates, who congratulated him on his complete recovery from the illness that beset him last fall. It will be remembered that about the time he was becoming very useful to the club in the pitcher's position he fell sick and was confined to bed. Upon his return home he devoted himself entirely to treatment for the trouble, and was rewarded by having it completely eradicated. He now looks strong and healthy, and should no mishap overtake him again he will surely become a star of the Senatorial staff, and a most materially helping the club into the first division. In Atlanta, Ga., where Norton pitched prior to coming to Washington, the bleacher boys gave him the nickname of "Hot Stuff," and by it he was known and addressed over the entire circuit of the Southern League. If his health holds good it will no doubt become appropriate, if "slangy," during his service in the big league this season.

John Kinable, the young pitcher signed Monday afternoon, returned from Baltimore yesterday morning, and at once reported at the park for practice. He handled himself well and in his every action gave entire satisfaction to Manager Schmeiz and Capt. Brown.

The program yesterday was precisely that of the first day. The ball was tossed about and batted to the field, and then to let the men "loosen up," but at no time was hard play attempted. The young pitchers were carefully coached, and managed along. About his old-leaguers, Manager Schmeiz has no concern as to, knowing that their personal judgment and experience will take care of them in the field. But the youngsters have to be watched to prevent them from overworking themselves. Like colts on a pasture, and scenting the inviting spring ozone, they are inclined to get gay and run all over the lot.

Considering that Monday was their first day out, and that they practiced four hours, the absence of soreness in the players yesterday was remarkable. Of course, on starting out in the forenoon a muscle here and there would sting a bit when called into action, and a half hour's practice drove the trouble away, and the suppleness that develops under a July sun was soon evident.

The majority of the men, no doubt, owe their "limbered up" condition to bicycle riding and the light gymnasium work they have engaged for April and six weeks previous. After each two hours' practice those of the players who think it necessary take trots around the inclosure in Indian file. They circle the area several times at a brisk gait in order to reduce flesh, improve the wind and strengthen the legs. In the bath and rub down with rough towels immediately follows this last exercise, after which they dress in their street clothes and walk to their respective boarding houses for supper and an evening of rest.

Manager Schmeiz said yesterday afternoon that there would be no attempt at team plays for a few days, but that the boys would jog along, getting out whatever soreness might lurk from exercise, and that the main object at present would be to train the eye. He said the practice they were able to get in two days in succession in each favorable weather would work wonders, and that if rain did follow today the good effects would remain, and that they could spend the time indoors healing the bruised spots and rubbing out soreness.

The weather permitting, the club will practice a couple of hours this morning and this afternoon may walk over to Georgetown Field to witness the game between Joe Kelly's Colts and John Hopkins Varsity team from Baltimore.

DIAMOND DUST

Georgetown College vs. Johns Hopkins, of Baltimore, at Georgetown Field, this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Can it be that Al Maul is afraid to stack his "slab army" up against a "sizzling contract?"

The Brooklyn players reached Charlotte, N. C., yesterday morning, and will begin spring work today.

Ewing hopes to get Shortstop Corcoran to work before the season begins, but Ritchie's work has pleased all hands.

The Times returns thanks to the local A. G. Spalding Sporting Goods Agency for the present of a reporter's pocket score book.

Fred Clarke held out on the Louisville team a little too long. He has been laid off.

NOT "HOW CHEAP."

Not "how cheap," is the result of the severest test to which the "Diamond Special" can be put. Send for catalogue and read why. Equipped with the new Double Diamond Brake. Greatest improvement since the pneumatic tire.

DUQUESNE MFG. CO., Pittsburgh, Pa. Makers of the highest grade bicycles. Agents Washington City, No. 1115 9th Street N. W.

FOLKS ARE NOT TO BELIEVE WHAT THEY SEE.

WHEN THEY SEE CROWDS

Of the Sick and Afflicted of All Classes and Conditions of People Thronging the Well-known Sanitarium of

Dr. J. C. YOUNG
Cor. Twelfth and F Streets,

They cannot but believe that this far-famed and most skilled of all physicians is doing a wonderful amount of good among poor suffering humanity. His free consultations, advice and medicines, and but merely nominal assessments for the most skilled treatment on earth, are proving and have proved the only hope of salvation to thousands of sufferers in our midst.

Talk is cheap, but facts are potent. Leading medical authorities have pronounced the cure was accomplished, but we must admit that it WAS ACCOMPLISHED. Institute and a talk with the doctor will tell you what the art of healing power?

Weakness of Bladder and Kidney Disease Cured.

"I can truthfully say," said Mr. W. H. LUCAS, acting steward for Gallaudet College, and whose postoffice address is Kendall Green, "that Dr. Young has cured me of a most aggravated case of nervous debility, complicated by a severe kidney and bladder trouble, after some of the most prominent physicians of this city had utterly failed to give me even the slightest relief."

One of Washington's leading specialists, after several months under his care, pronounced my case hopeless. My rest was greatly disturbed by the bladder affection. I was growing worse daily. I had lost all hope of ever being cured. A friend advised me to see Dr. Young without delay. I finally went, and my health now. I don't know it. I feel as well as I ever did in my life. Any one wishing to see me can do so by calling at the college, or a letter will reach me at Kendall Green Postoffice.

All interviews and correspondence strictly confidential. No cases made public without consent of patient. The wonderful cures Dr. Young is daily accomplishing would have been called miracles in the early days.

now because he refused to sign for less than $2,400.

Ashe says he likes Washington. The young man is informed that if he pitches winning ball Washington will surely like him in return.

Buck Ewing has decided to send Mike Kahoe to Indianapolis, believing that in Pitz, Schriver and Vaughn he has all the backbone needed.

Televis is ready to exchange O'Connor for Grim and Griffin of the Brooklyn. Barrie is willing and the deal may be consummated any day.